The Tendernews.com Team compiled the site after seeing the Marketing Managers struggle to find their Tender leads, often getting the information after the tender was opened or awarded because It is practically impossible for any individual or organization to scan the total press tenders purchase requirements published by various Governments ,Corporate, Public sector procurement & Tender purchase Agencies, In today's Business scenario everyone makes a significant use of the Internet in day to day working , So we realized the potential of this vast network for helping Businessmen jump-start and reduce their burden in Tender searches in a medium with which they've already become quite comfortable.

Also A Very Intelligent Search Tool (Search Engine) helps the user locate even misspelt or synonymical words & compiles the results in the order of high relevance to low relevance just like in Google Algorithm.

"Your service is really good. For a small new comer like me ," said Swaranjit Singh Sagoo of GO2FOX.
