

Reffster.com - innovative online Referral/Reward based recruitment service

Refer and get Rewarded

Gurgaon, Haryana, IND, 2007-09-28 10:41:53 (IndiaPRwire.com)

Reffster.com, an online referral, reward-based recruitment service, is offering cash rewards of Rs 10,000 to Rs 2,50,000 to people if they use the site to successfully recommend a friend or colleague for a job. Reffster claims to list only premium mid and senior management openings.

According to the company, Reffster.com will provide a value add over other online recruitment players by offering resume screening through its KPO (knowledge process outsourcing). The KPO staff will screen each resume and forward only the most relevant resumes to the client.

Candidate employment reference check is also provided in association with a third party to make the process more credible. This will ensure quicker turnaround time and lessen burden for the clients, Reffster has said.

Reffster.com is also offering a platform to employers for corporate branding, where the CEO or HR head could write about the organisation and even upload a video which would be YouTube linked.

Ranjit Jatar, co-founder and CEO, Reffster, has said, 'Reffster.com aims to shake up the recruitment market by tapping into the pool of quality passive and active candidates and widen the scope of the employers so as to help improve the speed, cost and quality of the recruitment process.'
