

tcyonline.com customizes free exam preparation

It is worth noting that out of these 40,000 students, hundreds have formed their own groups and are regularly benchmarking themselves against chosen peers, thus giving a 'new meaning' to education in this country.

New Delhi, Delhi, IND, 2008-01-07 12:10:08 (IndiaPRwire.com)

With their crystal clear goals mapped out throughout the length and breadth of India, tcyonline.com crossed their 40,000 enrolment mark, touching another milestone in test preparation and supplemental education.

Tcyonline.com is the online initiative of Top Careers & You (TCY), the education services company serving the domestic and international markets in school supplemental programs and college test preparation. Giving this information the CEO of Top Careers & You (TCY), Mr. Kamal Wadhwa, said, 'These record number of enrolments is a testimony to huge interest shown by the academic fraternity in our new student-teacher single platform program launched recently.'

It is worth noting that out of these 40,000 students, hundreds have formed their own groups and are regularly benchmarking themselves against chosen peers, thus giving a 'new meaning' to education in this country.

Soaking success of this free education portal are satisfied students and their parents who have expressed great appreciation for this new program.

'We found the online tests in Science and Math extremely useful. It is providing an interesting way of learning, apart from the regular classroom work', commented Mr. YMS Prasad from Andhra Pradesh after his daughter, a class IX CBSE student, took 'stress-free' online 'quality tests' on tcyonline.com

There's a general feeling among the academic fraternity that while there are many fun websites for social networking, tcyonline is doing a yeoman's service by giving something 'productive' to students, and that too free of cost.

While there are lot many student-centric websites, tcyonline.com is the only website, which caters to the 'student/teacher community'. It allows teachers, or just passionate mentors and writers, to share their questions and tutorials with thousands of students by uploading their content in any format. The most popular would be rewarded by the company in due course of time.

Fortified with excellent computing skills and academic acumen, the student today can judge and compare himself better - anytime, anywhere and with anybody - from Kashmir to Kottayam. Comparatively, he is on a sound pedestal than his 'not-so-fortunate' peers of yesteryears.

The pace with which the Internet is spreading its tentacles in the country, a la cell-phone craze, even the 'mobile education' will not be a distant dream in the next five years or so.

'It won't be a distant dream for us when these students would be doing the same with the help of mobile phones. It would be a red-letter day in the Indian education history and a valuable pride for us at tcyonline.com, 'the CEO said optimistically.

This young 'edupreneur' is determined to make the website a family affair so that each member of a family can improve his skills throughout the life.

Rising on the popularity chart among the academic fraternity, and parents, tcyonline.com is cruising in the fast lane today. 'With better test preparation, a student's cut-offs are bound to improve, leading to his confidence boost before he actually sits for his CBSE, NTSE, MBA or other competitive examinations,' said Mr. Wadhera emphatically.

tcyonline.com's salient features: Benchmarking - anytime, anywhere against anybody
Strong Analytics and recommendations
Tests galore
Freedom to choose teachers
Community forums

Now, what if a student has any questions? No problem. He can e-mail his queries to his subject experts who will revert to him with solutions within hours. These tests are so student-friendly that he rarely finds any difficulty.

The new platform for interaction has got wide support from teachers, too. According to an English teacher, Mr. K.B. Sharma, 'This new concept of education is a wonderful way to interact with students. We have to move with the times and teachers like me have to be within easy reach of their students.'
