

Real Value Hosting acquires Vision Online Network's Windows Business

Real Value Hosting (realvaluehosting.com), a provider of Web hosting services to small and medium businesses, today announced it has acquired Canada based web hosting company, Vision Online Network (vonetwork.com)'s Windows Business.

New Delhi, Delhi, IND, 2008-01-10 01:00:00 (IndiaPRwire.com)

Real Value Hosting (realvaluehosting.com), a provider of Web hosting services to small and medium businesses, today announced it has acquired Canada based web hosting company, Vision Online Network (vonetwork.com)'s Windows Business.

"We are extremely happy to announce our acquisition of VONetwork," says Real Value Hosting CEO, Rajesh Kumar. "It is the next step towards achieving our ambitious growth strategy and the continued expansion of RVH. This acquisition now makes Real Value Hosting one of the biggest Indian hosting companies, which will allow us to have a hugely positive impact on the Indian marketplace."

Existing customers of VONetwork should not experience any interruption of services or problems associated with the acquisition, the company said. Prices for existing customers will remain the same.

Financial details of the transaction were not disclosed. Both companies are privately held.

- END -

Real Value Hosting (RVH) is the leading hosting provider having over 5 years of experience in hosting field. We host over 35,000 domains with clients from over 75 countries. We are absolutely committed to providing the best and most complete customer service available. Whether you are looking for the most advanced features, or just a friendly hosting experience, your satisfaction is our promise.

For more information, Please contact:

Sonia Chopra

Marketing Executive - Real Value Hosting

You can also visit www.realvaluehosting.com for more information.