This event is an effort to minimize the technological gaps between different economies and promote the transfer of trade and knowledge in various areas of disaster management. Disaster Management training is useful for NGOs, social work students or volunteers providing support & rehabilitation measures during disasters. It is also beneficial for the home guard personnel, paramilitary organizations, civil defence personnel, scientists, meteorologists and environmentalists. It proves useful for functionaries of rural development and primary health centres, administrative services and relief workers. The emerging thrust areas in the discipline of disaster management include emergency planning and management, risk and business continuity management, risk assessment, health and safety, relief and developmental engineering and management, health management and rehabilitation. The disaster management covers topics like risk assessment and preventive strategies, legislative structures for control of disasters, disaster preparedness, disaster communication, measures for disaster mitigation, application of GIS in disaster management, rescue and resuscitation. Specialization can be done in the fields of mining, chemical disasters, and technical disasters etc.

Your visit to the exhibition will help us to make this a Successful event & we will be glad and encouraged if you would be a part of it.
