Yatra.com signs up for Appnomic's Application Performance Management Service Enables Real Time and Integrated Performance Management

Bangalore, Karnataka, October 14, 2009 /India PRwire/ -- Appnomic Systems, a specialist Infrastructure & Application Management Services company, today announced that Yatra.com, the leading travel portal has signed up for its Application Performance Management service. Appnomic has developed a patent-pending technology for real time Application Performance Management (APM) and is offering this high-end technology as a Managed Service delivered from a multi-tenant Remote Management Center (RMC) in Bangalore, India.

Manish Amin, CTO of Yatra.Com, mentioned "For a large volume, online business like ours the critical IT support required is real time identification of transaction failures and getting to the root cause of performance issues quickly. We did a detailed Proof-of-Concept (POC) with Appnomic and saw good value in their service offering that addressed our requirements. We look forward to using the APM service to enhance our customer experience and better performance of the application".

As per Padmanabhan, CEO of Appnomic, "Products in the market for performance management typically provide only visibility and alerts for application performance. They leave the root cause analysis, which can be complex and time consuming, to the customer. Our technology simplifies root cause analysis by advanced analytics and correlation thus providing immense value to the IT team in reducing the time to resolve performance issues. We are extremely pleased to work with Yatra and look forward to add value to their IT operations".

Appnomic simplifies the complexities of managing information technology (IT) by offering large and mid-size companies highly automated technology, intelligent analysis and process methods. Appnomic's unique delivery model, including application performance management and service delivery automation, enables companies to be more efficient and enhance productivity by more than 30% over current solutions in the marketplace.
