Chaklo.com is a unique search engine that consumers can use to find Hotel, Air Tickets and self driven Cars availability and rates, and to compare prices and offers from multiple merchants. Using our service, travelers no longer have to search websites one by one to find the best travel deals and lowest rates. Our vision is to give our users total price transparency without any catches. We search across hundreds of websites simultaneously - through the airline companies' own websites plus online travel agencies. As the only search engine on the web, we also search all low cost airlines in Europe.

And the best part is that we are not a travel agency and we don't sell Travel services - We are committed to showing the "complete picture" for any travel site that can be booked on the Internet today. We are independent and are not paid to promote any particular website

We just show you where to buy at the best prices, linking you directly to the supplier - free of charge.
