

A revoltion in Immigration comes to India

The worlds leadng Immigration authority opens offices in India.

New Delhi, Delhi, March 1, 2008 /India PRwire/ -- If people needed any more proof that Indian Business is truly a player on the world stage today it came in the launch of www.globalvisas.co.in this website signals the introduction into India of the worlds leading corporate Immigration solutions provider. India has many local Immigration companies who specialise in working with individuals who wish to study or travel overseas. India even has one or two Immigration legal firms with the occasional overseas office. What makes www.globalvisas.co.in very special is there client base. They specialise in the worlds top corporate organisations and most famous of celebrities. Their world wide network of offices have helped Bollywood film stars and Indian heads of Industry but no they have launched in India.

Mr Liam Clifford www.globalvisas.co.in UK based Managing Director and Ajay Hasija their India branch Director was asked why now? Liam Clifford says "It is simply timing. As the UK has just had the biggest shake up in their Immigration laws for 45 years and Indian nationals being some of the highest skilled individuals we saw a need for corporate and professional services in India. With a growing middle class who are looking at employment opportunities overseas from within India we were being contact everyday in London, New York, Canada and even Australia by Indian nationals. We felt it was time to come to India and see how we could be of help locally. We have been www.globalvisas.com for the last 14 years but now India has shown it requires specialist attention. We only hope the Indian market are ready for such a professional service and enjoy our upper class levels of service."

With their ability to obtain highly skilled working visas to several of the worlds economies we are sure they will be extremely busy as more Indian nationals than ever look overseas to take the next step in their career.
